OLD LAW TIES UP SALE OF PORTION OF EIGHTH STREET FOR TIME BEING

Stated That Macbeth-Evans Glass Co. Will Build Part of Addition Previously Planned

INVESTIGATING MATTER

May be Possible That Ruling Regarding Sale of Original Town Plot Will Not Have Effect

Owing to a recent court decision which makes it unlawful for a street contained in the original plan of any city or town to be occupied for any purpose than for a street, it is unlikely that the Macbeth-Evans Glass company will purchase that portion of Eighth street leading from the railroad to the river and erect thereon an addition to the present plant. At least the deal will not be put through until the company is sure it can get a clear title. Meanwhile, it is stated, a part of the original planned addition will be built on ground on the other side of Eighth street purchased from the Pittsburg Plate Glass company.

It is a question whether Eighth street would come under the ruling or not. While it was not in the original plat of Charleroi, it is stated it was contained in a plot added to the borough later, and the law may apply all the same. That is the question which attorneys are now trying to solve It stated that there are other similar cases in Pennsylvania, and it was necessary to have an act introduced in the Legislature covering the whole matter before it is definitely settled. It is the desire of the Macbeth-Evans company to purchase the ground for an addition, as they find it necessary by reason of increasing trade to make needed additional facilities.

The decision on the matter was handed down by Judge Robert S. Frazier of Allegheny county, but his ruling did not cover such a case as that involved locally. The sale of Eighth street has been hinging on the one matter since last fall, when the company first proposed to buy it.

Eighth street is very little used by the borough, and it is said that Third street could be secured from the Hussy-Binns Shovel company for an opening to the river.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY IN SESSION

The Christian church missionary society met on Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in the prayer meeting room of the church. Reports of the secretary-treasurer for the quarter were given. Mrs. Duvall gave a reading on "Purpose and Spirit of Negro Work." Mrs. Dainty read the poem, "Me and My Black Mammy." "A Study of the Picture in the March Tiding's" was given by Mrs. I. N. Kibler. Mrs. Mitchell read a paper on "The Woman of Samaria." Mrs. Shipe told a mission story "The Last of These," and Mrs. Dainty gave facts about "Some Indian Women."

STATE OFFICIALS START QUARANTINE

Dogs Within Prescribed District Surrounding Monessen Must be Muzzled or They Will be Killed

Under the direction of the State Livestock Sanitary Board of the State of Pennsylvania the 100 day quarantine of dogs in the neighborhood of Monessen is being enforced. Charleroi is not included in the territory. All dogs must be muzzled or they will be killed by the proper authorities, and the owners themselves may be proceeded against legally. The territory included in the quarantine is Monessen and McMahon boroughs and a part of Rostraver township surronding the community. Quarantine signs were recently received and orders to dog owners have been posted over the town. In this way only is it expceted to prevent the spread of rabies.

STRAIGHT TRUTH ONLY IF PROPOSED BILL IS ADOPTED BY LEGISLATURE

Measure Regulating Advertising Introduced---Bargain Sale Prices Would Have to be Lived Up To

"UNCLE BANKS" MAKES HIT WITH HIS AMENDMET

(Special Correspondence)

Harrisburg, April 20—If a bill introduced in the House by Representative Robinson becomes a law, extravagant and untrue advertising will get the advertiser in trouble. The bill catches all who knowingly state untruths as to price, quantity and quality or advertise in any manner which will mislead the public. With such a law in force "unprecedented bargain sales" could not be advertised unless the goods could actually be produced

"Uncle Banks" Holland made a hit in the the Assembly when he worked in an amendment to the Gray pension bill providing that no veteran chould draw a State pension who now gets a Federal pension. The House finally passed Assemblyman Holland's bill authorizing courties to pay State taxes on road improvement bonds. If this becomes a law the Washington county commissioners can more readily float the four per cent road bonds which are issued yearly to construct the roads approved some years ago under the Flinn law. It will cost the county taxpayers more money, however to pay the four mill tax on the bonds which are usually floated in $100,000 issues.

The mine code was reported out of the House committee today. This is opposed by the miners generally, and a hard fight was made to prevent it from being reported favorably.

MORE BIRTHS THAN DEATHS IN YEAR

Statistics For Washington County Show Deaths to Number 2,507

According to the reports of the registrars of vitalstatistics in this county for the year 1910 there were 4,635 births and 2,507 deaths. A check list of the number of births and deaths reported by each registrar has been received by County Treasurer Lane and the bill due for the registry paid. The bill amounted to $1,743.25.

In the district covered by Dr. Edwin McKay as registar composed of Charleroi, Fallowfield, Twilight and West Pike Run, the number of births was 398 and the deaths were 157. At North Charleroi, reported by S. W. Sharpneck, the births were 44 and deaths 37.

MUST USE SAFETY LIGHTS IN MINE

Eclipse Matter Brought to Termination in Court

That safety lamps must be used and that open lamps are extremely dangerous in the Eclipse mine, at Coal Center was decided in an opinion handed down this week by Judge McIlvaine.

Almost a year ago some of the miners objected to working in the mine on the ground that the gaseous conditions were too dangerous and an appeal was made to the State inspectors. The report of the inspectors put the matter up to the court and a commission was appointed to make investigation, take testimony and report. Hearings were held at length in Pittsburg and this report also sustained the contention that the mine is a gaseous mine and cannot be safely operated with open lamps.

By the report filed the court concludes that the operators have not complied with the mining laws.

DISCUSS SUNDAY MATTER

Inspiring Talks on Sabbath Observance Are Given

UNION CHURCH MEETING

A union meeting of churches to create a sentiment in favor of better Sunday observance was held Wednesday evening at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, under direction of the Charleroi Ministerial Association. There was a good turnout of people, and the chief addresses were made by Rev. V. G. Hostetter, pastor of the First Christian church and Rev. F. A. Richards, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. G. G. Kerr presided.

Rev. Hostetter's remarks were on the topic, "Reasons for Observing the Sabbath Day." In it he compared the observance of the Lord's Day as Christians observe it with Sunday as it was observed formerly by the Jewish people. He gave many reasons why the day should be more sacredly regarded than it is now.

Rev. Richards spoke of "How We May Have a Better Observance of the Sabbath," giving his points, first by enforcement of the law; second by education; third by professing Christians setting a better extample, and fourth by a religous revival.

The meeting resulted it its purpose, sentiment in favor of better observance of the day being created so that much may be accomplished.

ONE MEMBER OF THE POOR BOARD BECOMES DEFIANT

Buchanan Issues Statement in Answer to County Controller Moffitts' Charge That Salary Was Overdrawn

AUDIT SYSTEM REFORM MAY BE MADE

According to the Washington Record Poor Director R. C. Buchanan, who with other members of the Board is being asked for a refund on salary collected, the difference being that between a salary of $500 per annum, for 15 months, and at $700 per annum for the same period, yesterday issued a statement in answer to the demand of County Controller Moffit in which he resents the insinuation that the Act of Assembly has been violated, and states that if the Controller believes the board has drawn money to which it is not entitled the courts are open to the Controller for a legal interpretation of the act fixing salaries and the question when the census showed that the population of Washington county was more than 100,000.

The other members of the board have made no statements. According to the controller's view it is doubtful if any increase can be allowed during the term of the present board, but he is certain the increase cannot be allowed for the year 1910 prior to the formal and official announcement of the population of Washington county, which came later in the year. He has sent letters to the members of the Board demanding a refund of almost $250 for each member and is awaiting answers to the letters.

Cautious attorneys are inclined to accept the views of the controller and it is probable that the matter will still be adjusted by submitting it to the courts. If this is not done it is certain that the controller will enter suit to recover.

One result of the little trouble will be that both the controller's office and the commissioners office will probably insist upon a more complete system of auditing, so that all vouchers may be properly approved before they are issued. It is also likely that all salary vouchers must go through by themselves on pay rolls properly certified, and that the poor board and all others will be asked to send in these warrants at specified times, covering salaries for stated periods.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

Charleroi Branch L.C.B.A Organized Nine Years Ago

EVENT IS COMMEMORATED

Branch No. 782, L. C. B. A. observed the ninth anniversary of its organization Wednesday evening. A special feature was a literary and musical program of the following numbers: Reading, Miss Harriet Wagner; oration, Miss Anna M. Sullivan; trio, Miss Lillian Riley, Mrs. Jennie Watkinson and Miss Helen Ritzer; German inpersonations under the direction of Mrs. Magdalene Connelly. After the program was rendered five games of progressive euchre were played, favors being awarded to Mrs. Allie Turney, Miss Nora Riley and Mrs. Mary Fiedler. Dancing was enjoyed and refreshmenta were served by a committee of which Mrs. B. Jackson was the head. The affair was largely attended by members.

CANONSBURG CONVENTION

Sunday School Session Will be Held There

SCHEDULED FOR JUNE

The people of Canonsburg are beginning to take up in earnest the work of preparing to entertain the sixteenth annual convention of the Washington County Sabbath School Association, to be held June 22. and 23. This is the first time that Canonsburg has been honored by this association, and the people will do all in their power to insure its success. Fully 2,000 delegates and visitors are expected there on the two days of the convention, and to care for these is the work of the entertainment committee. This committee is composed of representatives from the federated Bible classes of the community, with W. G. Simpson as its chairman. The work of soliciting places for the entertainment of delegates and visitors is in the hands of a soliciting committee. Delegates will be furnished lodging and breakfast free.

The parades in connection with the convention are expected to be the biggest in the history of Canonsburg. The parade on the first day will be composed of children, while on the evening of the second day men and boys over thirteen years will be in line. It is hoped to have 2,000 in line in the parade on the second day.

Pays For Itself

One of the benefits of the office of county controller is evidenced by the little incident that occurred at the county seat this week, when County Controller John H. Moffit flagged a scheme on the part of the poor directors to increase their pay without the knowledge of the county commissioners and other officials. The poor directors succeeded in pulling one over on the commissioners all right, but their scheme was detected and held up by the county controller. The indications are that the county will be saved in the one attempt the sum of $750, to say nothing of a much larger amount had the self-given increase in pay not been detected.

It appears that the poor directors construed the law to the effect that they were entitled to more pay with the increased population of the county as shown by the recent census. They put this increase in and bunched their pay with a lot of other expenditures, trusting that the commissioners would pass the whole amount without question. Sure enough they did, but it was detected by the controller who has served notice on the poor directors that they must refund the surplus they gave themselves in the first accounts settled. This is only one instance where the watchfulness of the controller has saved money for the county, and the creation of the office was a big step in the dircetion of public economy.

An Emphatic Notice

It is apparent that the Democratic faction in Pennsylvania which inherited the late James Kerr's hatred for the Democratic organization in the State refuses to be reconciled. That particular crowd has gone over, bag and baggage, to the Keystoners and they are manifesting a determination to remain away from Democracy until it surrenders to that group of poltical arch-angels whose policy is place hunting and whose purpose is revenge.

The livest wire in the whole Keystone combination is John F. Short, editor and proprietor of the Clearfield Republican, a Democratic publication notwithstanding its name, and for a long time the organ of the late Mr. Kerr. Short is a known fellow and recognizes false pretense even a long distance. In his paper this week Mr. Snort served the following notice on both the Democratic factions:

"State Chairman Guthrie has opened up headquarters at Harrisburg in opposition to State Chairman DeWalt. Each claims tobe the Democratic organization of the State. Fact is, neither crowd has any votes behind them. The Democratic voters in the State are in the Keytone party and will stay there until both the Guthrie-McCormick and the Guffey-DeWalt leaderhip lies down comletely."

In the meantime the Republican organiaztion in Pennsylvania is going ahead with plans for satisfying the whole people and giving to the State an administration that is substantial and business like. Senator Boies Penrose is leading the Republicans of the nation in the Senate and President Taft is making good at every turn, pleasing even the most critical in the Democrtaic party.

While the Democrats are at each others throats the Republicans are forming in excellent shape for the Presidential campaign of next year.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Harry L. Barnhart, leader of the Palace Theatre orchestra, is practically half the show, on account of his rare discrimination in "playing to the pictures." It is a good deal of an art to lay to moving pictures—to make the melody suggest what is lacking in words, but the versatile leader of the Palace orchestra is always equal to the occasion. For instance, when the hero and heroine in an emotional photoplay embrace, the music will be "Love Me, and the World is Mine," or some other sentimental air. When the heroine is in the last stages of despair, the orchestra wails sad music like "Hearts and Flowers." Pictures out in the open bring forth rollicing strains, while Spanish and Mexican scenes bring dreamy waltz music.

There is also "burglar and villain" music, when the violin strings and piano keys whisper a stealthy "plunk-plunk-plunk" in ascending and descending keys; "Indian and cowboy" music, suggestive of free and untrameled action; social music, when life runs at high tide, and music sugestive of defeated ambition, sorrow's lowest depths, and the grief that burdens the "o'er fraught heart and bids it break." Then there is the music that peals forth in the travel and senic pictures, that brings out the grandeur and sublimity of nature, suggesting the changing seasons, sunshine and blue skies, as well as the tempests of the ocean and the wintry blasts that sweep the plains and the great arctic regions of the ice bound north.

This rare discrimination in playing to the pictures gives a touch of realism that supplies the deficency of words. This is a feature that has made the Palace Theatre one of the most popular photoplay houses in the western end of the State, and many traveling men look forward with pleasure to the recreation the Palace affords during their brief stay in Charleroi.

A physican in one of the Westmoreland county towns who has devoted some study to the subject of transmigration, pulled one over on a neighbor not long since. Being an ardent gardener, he planted some early peas as soon as the frost was out of the ground. Before the peas were up a neighbor's hens got intothe garden, and when the doctor discovered the fowls busy at work, the peas had about all "come up and gone down again." Heaving a rock at the offending fowls the doctor's aim happened to be good and he struck one of the hens on the head killing it instantly. He started to bury it, when the neighbor, hearing the commotion among his hens, apeared and called out over the fence:

"Hey, there, what are you burying in that hole?"

"Oh," said the doctor, "I'm just replanting some of my seeds."

"Seeds!" shouted the neighbor angrily, "it looks like one of my hens."

"That's all right," returned the other, "the seeds are inside."

FOOD FERMENTS

Causes Indigestion and Stomach Distress

Indigestion or any chronic stomach trouble leads to loss of vigor and vitality; half the nervous wrecks in America today can blame indigestion for their condition.

Fermentation of food means that your stomach is run down; that your food does not digest and that the blood, not being supplied with nutritous elements, cannot supply the various organs of the body with sufficient nourishment.

That's why indigestion often causes eye weakness, brain fag, palpitation of the heart and inactive liver.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets will build up your run down stomach, will banish indigeston and put your whole system in good condition if you will give them a chance. They are sold by Piper Bros. at only 50 cents a large box.

EVERYONE NEEDS IT

W. F. Henning is Having a Wonderful Sale of Thompsons Barosma, the Mighty Kidney and Liver Specific

And no wonder, when he offers to refund your money if it doesn't cure any disease of the kidneys, liver or bladder, backache, sideache, nervousness or any weakness of the kidneys.

But Thompson's Barosma has made so many almost miraculous cures that W. F. Hennings is pretty certain not to have any return.

Here are a few instances:

Frank K. Sturges, Sturtevant, Crawford county, Pa., was cured of Bright's disease six years ago and only took six bottles. He has had no bad symptoms since.

"I had kidney trouble and enlargement of the liver and spleen. I took Thompson's Barosma. The first bottle reduced the measurement around my stomach from 45 to 36 inches, and several bottles completely cured me."—M. S. Langworthy, Tyronville, Pa.

After suffering the terrible agony of rheumatism for ten years, being compelled to use crutches, J. N. Dunn, Troy Center, Pa, after all hope had left him, and he had no faith in any remedy, took six bottles of Thompson's Barosma, threw away his crutches and went to work for the first time in ten years.

These staements are absolutely true, and the Thompson Medical Co., Titusville, Pa, will prove it. Then why should anyone suffer in the face of such facts? How can they suffer when W. F. Hennings guarantees to refund the money if a cure is not effected. Thompson's Barosma, 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

The crowd in the little country store was watching the rain when Deacon Witherspoon remarked that he'd seen it rain about as hard as anybody ever had seen it rain. Somebody said:

"Deacon, how hard did you ever see it rain?"

"Well, sir," said the deacon, "once upon a time, when I was at home, we had an old cider barrel laying out in the yard with both ends out and the bunghole up, and, would you believe it, it rained so hard into that bunghole that water couldn't run out of both ends fast enough, and it swelled up and busted!"

Then Reuben Henry spoke up. He said he'd never seen it rain very hard, but he'd seen some mighty cold weather. Somebody said, "Rube, how cold did you ever see it get?"

He said, "Well, sir, one time when I was living down in Pickaway county, in hog killing time, we had a kettle of boiling water setting on the stove, and we took it out in the yard, and it froze so doggone quick the ice was hot."—National Monthly.

Genuine Sardines.

Genuine sardines are the young of the pilchard. Their name comes from the fact that they are most numerous off the coast of Sardinia. They swim in the spring in shoals containing millions—fish shaped shoals ten miles long and a half mile wide. The sardines are netted and taken at once to the shore. There they are washed, scraped and sprinkled with salt. The salt is soon removed, the heads and gills cut off and there is another washing. Then, on beds of green brush, the fish are dried in the sun. Next they are boiled in olive oil till cooked thoroughly. The packers—women always—take them now and pack them in the tin boxes we all know, filling up each box with boiling oil, fitting on the lid and making the box air tight by soldering the joints together with a jet of hot steam. Sardines are more or less perfect according as they are prepared more or less immediately after their capture and according as the oil they are packed in is more or less pure.

The Young French Girl.

A young French girl enters the theater with her father. She takes her seat directly in front of the privileged American girls "finishing" their education. Her untouched flowerlike face is alight with anticipated pleasure, with a soft vividness of intelligence that could never be cursed with the word "brainy." Her hair is bound with a little old fashioned snood and tiny buckle; a strangely simple evening dress covers the exquisite ardor of her slender body. Quickly four faces, the faces of the overindulged, the overprecocious, the overathletic and the overdressed, turn to study her. There is something to learn in this little French maid, whose eyes never meet a man's, who is never allowed to walk alone on the street, whose unconscious grace envelops her like a veil, who is sheltered like a delicate bird, yet trained to the utmost energy, reserve, accomplishment and usefulness.—Atlantic.

Wall Street Superstition.

Almost all the Wall street speculators are superstitious fellows who believe in charms and amulets. In their pockets they carry lucky coins, a rabbit's foot, a horse chestnut or something of the kind. One Wall street man, much envied by his companions, has a short piece of a hangman's rope to conjure with. Many of the customers in the offices are even more credulous than the professional traders in their belief in signs and omens. There is a deep seated tradition that Tuesday is "low day" in a "bull market" and "high day" in a "bear market." Some persons speculate on "systems," and others employ "charts." Once they exploited a machine in Wall street known as a "market register." It was about as effective as helping anybody to win at Stock Exchange speculation as it is to rub up against a hunchback for luck just before you bet on a horse race.—Munsey's Magazine.

He Got Valuable Information.

The story is told of the times of Aretas Blood and the old Manchester locomotive works that a student came to Mr. Blood once and wanted to study the business of locomotive building in his vacation days. The student came well recommended, and Mr. Blood, who never had much use for these "tech" people, sent him down to the boiler shop and placed him in charge of the old foreman. The old man took the "tech" man around, and in the course of the inspection of the shop they came across one boiler on the inside of which was a man at work.

"How does that man get out?" inquired the "tech" man.

"Oh," said the venerable pilot, "he doesn't get out. We always count upon losing at least one man in building a boiler."—Manchester Union.

Napoleon Obeyed the Mob.

In "The Corsican—A Diary of Napoleon's Life In His Own Words," Bonaparte tells how, as an obscure soldier, he witnessed some of the opening scenes of the revolution: "I lodged Rue du Mail, Place des Victories. At the sound of the tocsin and at the news that the Tuileries were attacked I started for the Carousel. Before I had got there in the Rue des Petits Champs I was passed by a mob of horrible looking fellows parading a head stuck on a pike. Thinking I looked too much of a gentleman, they wanted me to shout 'Vive la nation!' which I did promptly, as may easily be imagined."

When a Great Man Dies.

There can be but austere and serious thoughts in all hearts when a sublime spirit makes its majestic entrance into another life, when one of those beings who have long soared above the crowd on the visible wings of genius, spreading all at once other wings which we did not see, plunges swiftly into the unknown.—From Hugo's Funeral Oration on Balzac.

Playing at Death.

The mother of Ivan Turgenev, the Russian novelist, was a trying person to live with, irritable, capricious and unreasonable. On Ivan's birthday in 1845, we are told in "Two Russian Reformers," after a day of festivities, Mme. Turgenev pretended to be dying. "She sent for her confessor and, placing before her the portrait of her son Ivan, exclaimed 'Adieu, Ivan! Adieu, Nicolas! Adieu, my children!' Then she ordered her forty servants and all the men employed about the house to say goodby to her. When they had filed out of the room Mme. Turgenev declared that she felt better and asked for tea. The next day the following 'order' appeared:

"'I give orders that tomorrow morning the disobedient servants, Nicolas Jacovlef, Ivan Petrof and Egor Kondratatief, shall sweep the court in front of my windows.'

"Those names were those of servants who had not appeared at her bedside, possibly because they were a little drunk that evening. 'Good for nothings! Drunkards!' exclaimed Mme. Turgenev. 'They rejoice at the death of their mistress!'"

The Bank Beat the Prince.

The Gentlewoman of London recalls the following story of the prince regent and Coutts' bank: "When George IV. was a regent he had a grudge against Coutts and determined to play a trick on the authorities. In those days even the great banks kept very small reserves of cash, and the playful prince thought out a plan to close Coutts'. So he sent his equerry round from Carlton House with a check for £100,000, fondly hoping that the bank would not be able to pay over the counter. The prince's trick, however, failed of success, as the wary old partner of the Strand bank proved equal to the occasion. He said at once to the equerry, 'How will his royal highness take the amount, in gold or notes?' The equerry hesitated and then said he had better go back to Carlton House to inquire. So he departed, and Coutts' had time to send to the Bank of England and get the cash required, but it was not needed, as the prince regent, seeing that Coutts' had 'got the best of him, did not return the check in question."

Eggs That Can't Be Found.

The eggs of some common birds of the present day have never been found. There is the robin snipe; its eggs have never been seen. An English zoologist kept a man going up and down the coast of Labrador for weeks purposely to get a robin snipe's egg, but it was in vain. The bird is known by thousands of people, but it breeds so far north and so remote from any civilization that no scientific observer can ever get to its nest ere the young are hatched and have taken to wing. The frigate bird that is so commonly seen at sea on the Pacific and off the West Indies is such a solitary bird and is so seldom seen in its nest during the hours of daylight that its egg is rare. It seems strange, but the eggs of so well known a bird as the sandpiper have never been found and are almost priceless.—London Globe.

Reversed the Proposition

Robert Wickliffe Woolley, the writer found it necessary not long ago to take a trip west. On the dining car of the train he saw that he had in his pocket 10 cents in change, his smallest bank note being one for $50. He handed this to the porter, who went to the end of the car for a conference with the conductor.

"I'm very sorry about this," said the conductor, standing in front of Woolley and toying with the big bill, "but we haven't the change for $50. We'll just take your address and send you the change."

Woolley calmly reached over and took possession of the banknote. "You've got nothing on me," he said. "I'll take the address of the railroad and send the price of the meal."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Baths of Caracalla.

The Romans appear to have been well off in the matter of bathing places in the first and second centuries. In the baths of Caracalla 1,600 bathers could be accommodated at one time. The inclosed area was 360 square yards, but it included a course for foot racing. The bathing establishment was 240 yards in length by 124 wide. The remains of the walls are eight and ten feet thick and in some places as much as fifty feet high.

A Cumulative Test.

As the thin man and the stout one were talking of diet and food in general the thin man said: "You can get an excellent dinner at Clapham's, the restaurant near my office, for 25 cents. Ever try one of his dinners?"

"One of 'em! Yes, I should say I had," said the stout man. "Why, I ate four of 'em one day last week!"

TRIED TO BE NICE.

But Fannie Made an Awful Mess of It With the Old Lady.

"When Fannie is bent upon pleasing," sighed Fannie's younger sister, "she can certainly make a horrible mess of things. Last Sunday Charlie Evans having arrived at the point where he felt he wanted his family's opinion of me, invited us both up to take tea with his mother. The minute I laid eyes on his mother I knew Fannie would get in trouble—she simply can't help getting nervously foolish when there's a religious person around.

"Charlie's mother kissed us and, addressing herself to Fannie as the elder, said something about our being very sweet to come and see a daughterless old woman. Whereat Fannie looked at Charlie and his two brothers and replied feelingly that it must be a terrible disappointment to have only them. Mrs. Evans, to rectify my sister's misapprehension, told us proudly that she had three more sons, not present.

"By this time Fannie realized that she had made a bad beginning and leaped further in with the supposition that the other three were off having a good time instead of moping at home. The older lady drew herself up and said severely:

"'My three sons are in heaven, Miss Barnes.'

"'Oh, how awful!' came Fannie's ready gasp.

"'No, not awful at all!' and Mrs. Evans was positively glaring at us. 'I feel that they were specially blessed in being allowed to pass thus early to their Lord. They died as little children.'

"'Dear me, how glad you must have been!' blurted out flustered Fannie.

"By this time I had kicked a hole in Fannie's ankle, and that quieted her for awhile. She might have kept still for the rest of the evening had not her pet subject, the higher education of woman, come up for the old lady's disapproval. Then Fannie made a handspring into the conversation by remarking that when we had more educated mothers there would be less infant mortality.

"And, mind you, Fannie was really trying to be nice for my sake."—New York Times.

Sickly Children
Letters from Mothers

"I wish I could induce every mother, who has a delicate, sickly child, to try your delicious Cod Liver and Iron Tonic VINOL. It restored our little daughter to health and strength after everything else had failed."—Mrs. C. W. Stump, Canton, Ohio.

Mrs. F. P. Skonnard, of Minneapolis, Minn., writes, "I want to recommend VINOL to every mother who has a weak or sickly child. My little boy was sickly, pale, and had no appetite for two years. I tried different medicines and doctors without benefit, but thanks to VINOL, he is a well and healthy boy to-day."

C. Allen, of New Bedford, Mass., writes, "My two puny children gained rapidly in flesh and strength in a very short time after taking VINOL."

We positively know VINOL will build up little ones and make them healthy, strong and robust. Try one bottle, and if you are not satisfied, we will return your money.

HOW
I Was Cured of Malaria

"I was for over five years troubled with Malarial Fever. It would almost always come on in the Spring and would bother me for the remainder of the summer. I tried different medicines, but they did not seem to help me. I also had the doctor off and on for some time but the next year I would be troubled just the same and I would have to be at home for several weeks. I would be in bed one day and have chills and a heavy fever, and the next day I would be up about the house, and this is the way I would be for several weeks each summer.

"I finally decided to try some good blood medicine, so I began taking Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and found it did me lots of good. I began taking it early in the spring and continued taking it all through the summer. I found, after taking a few bottles, that my body was covered with pimples, and it seemed to drive all the humor out of my blood. After that I felt much better, and now I am just as healthy as ever I was, and I am never troubled with Malarial Fever."—George P. Strong, 35 Groveland Street, Lynn, Mass. Thousands of people believe in

Pinkham's Blood Purifier

Malaria is caused by a parasite which gets into the blood, and unless the blood is in a healthy condition and has normal resisting properties, they attack and destroy the red corpuscles, and so seriously impair the general health.

Chills and fever are the most marked symptoms of Malaria, which can be cured by purifying and enriching the blood. Mr. Strong found that Pinkham's Blood Purifier cured him after all other means had failed, and what it did for Mr. Strong it will do for other sufferers.

WESTMORELAND IS MORE MODEST

Only Petition for 13 1-2 Miles of Improved Highways This Year

Westmoreland county commissioners are more modest in their demand for new roads than the Washington county commissioners, only petitioning for 13 1-2 miles of highway as compared with the 35 miles asked for in this county.

The petitioner has been filed with Judge Doty and will be presented to the grand jury for the May criminal court term on or about May 11. Upon the approval of that body, the petitions will be presented to the court of quarter session for approval.

The roads asked to be permanently improved are the Latrobe, St. Vincent and Philadelphia and Pittsburg turnpike in Unity township; the Latrobe Bradenville and Derry road in Derry township; the Vandergrift-Chamber School House in Allegheny and Washington township and the Monessen and Pricedale road in Rostraver township.

These roads will connect the various towns along them with the State roads in the Sproul bill, now before the Legislature.

Her Stipulation.

The pale young man with sheepish eyes glanced timorously at his fair companion. They had sat together in the conservatory for fully five minutes and had hardly exchanged a word.

At last, in desperation, he dived his hand into his breast pocket and brought out his cigarette case.

"Do you mind, Miss Smilax, if I smoke?" he asked.

"Not in the least," replied the young lady sweetly, "if you don't think it will make you sick!"

OLD LAW TIES UP SALE OF PORTION OF EIGHTH STREET FOR TIME BEING

Stated That Macbeth-Evans Glass Co. Will Build Part of Addition Previously Planned

INVESTIGATING MATTER

May be Possible That Ruling Regarding Sale of Original Town Plot Will Not Have Effect

Owing to a recent court decision which makes it unlawful for a street contained in the original plan of any city or town to be occupied for any purpose than for a street, it is unlikely that the Macbeth-Evans Glass company will purchase that portion of Eighth street leading from the railroad to the river and erect thereon an addition to the present plant. At least the deal will not be put through until the company is sure it can get a clear title. Meanwhile, it is stated, a part of the original planned addition will be built on ground on the other side of Eighth street purchased from the Pittsburg Plate Glass company.

It is a question whether Eighth street would come under the ruling or not. While it was not in the original plat of Charleroi, it is stated it was contained in a plot added to the borough later, and the law may apply all the same. That is the question which attorneys are now trying to solve It stated that there are other similar cases in Pennsylvania, and it was necessary to have an act introduced in the Legislature covering the whole matter before it is definitely settled. It is the desire of the Macbeth-Evans company to purchase the ground for an addition, as they find it necessary by reason of increasing trade to make needed additional facilities.

The decision on the matter was handed down by Judge Robert S. Frazier of Allegheny county, but his ruling did not cover such a case as that involved locally. The sale of Eighth street has been hinging on the one matter since last fall, when the company first proposed to buy it.

Eighth street is very little used by the borough, and it is said that Third street could be secured from the Hussy-Binns Shovel company for an opening to the river.

STATE OFFICIALS START QUARANTINE

Dogs Within Prescribed District Surrounding Monessen Must be Muzzled or They Will be Killed

Under the direction of the State Livestock Sanitary Board of the State of Pennsylvania the 100 day quarantine of dogs in the neighborhood of Monessen is being enforced. Charleroi is not included in the territory. All dogs must be muzzled or they will be killed by the proper authorities, and the owners themselves may be proceeded against legally. The territory included in the quarantine is Monessen and McMahon boroughs and a part of Rostrever township surrounding the community. Quarantine signs were recently received and orders to dog owners have been posted over the town. In this way only is it expected to prevent the spread of rabies.

STRAIGHT TRUTH ONLY IF PROPOSED BILL IS ADOPTED BY LEGISLATURE

Measure Regulating Advertising Introduced--Bargain Sale Prices Would Have to be Lived Up To

"UNCLE BANKS" MAKES HIT WITH HIS AMENDMET

(Special Correspondence)

Harrisburg, April 20—If a bill introduced in the House by Representative Robinson becomes a law, extravagant and untrue advertising will get the advertiser in trouble. The bill catches all who knowingly state untruths as to price, quantity and quality or advertise in any manner which will mislead the public. With such a law in force "unprecedented bargain sales" could not be advertised unless the goods could actually be produced

"Uncle Banks" Holland made a hit in the the Assembly when he worked in an amendment to the Gray pension bill providing that no veteran should draw a State pension who now gets a Federal pension. The House finally passed Assemblyman Holland's bill authorizing counties to pay State taxes on road improvement bonds. If this becomes a law the Washington county commissioners can more readily float the four per cent road bonds which are issued yearly to construct the roads approved some years ago under the Flinn law. It will cost the county taxpayers more money, however to pay the four mill tax on the bonds which are usually floated in $100,000 issues.

The mine code was reported out of the House committee today. This is opposed by the miners generally, and a hard fight was made to prevent it from being reported favorably.

MORE BIRTHS THAN DEATHS IN YEAR

Statistics For Washington County Show Deaths to Number 2,507

According to the reports of the registrars of vitalstatistics in this county for the year 1910 there were 4,635 births and 2,507 deaths. A check list of the number of births and deaths reported by each registrar has been received by County Treasurer Lane and the bill due for the registry paid. The bill amounted to $1,743.25.

In the district covered by Dr. Edwin McKay as registar composed of Charleroi, Fallowfield, Twilight and West Pike Run, the number of births was 398 and the deaths were 157. At North Charleroi, reported by S. W. Sharpneck, the births were 44 and deaths 37.

MUST USE SAFETY LIGHTS IN MINE

Eclipse Matter Brought to Termination in Court

That safety lamps must be used and that open lamps are extremely dangerous in the Eclipse mine, at Coal Center was decided in an opinion handed down this week by Judge McIlvaine.

Almost a year ago some of the miners objected to working in the mine on the ground that the gaseous conditions were too dangerous and an appeal was made to the State inspectors. The report of the inspectors put the matter up to the court and a commission was appointed to make investigation, take testimony and report. Hearings were held at length in Pittsburg and this report also sustained the contention that the mine is a gaseous mine and cannot be safely operated with open lamps.

By the report filed the court concludes that the operators have not complied with the mining laws.

DISCUSS SUNDAY MATTER

Inspiring Talks on Sabbath Observance Are Given

UNION CHURCH MEETING

A union meeting of churches to create a sentiment in favor of better Sunday observance was held Wednesday evening at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, under direction of the Charleroi Ministerial Association. There was a good turnout of people, and the chief addresses were made by Rev. V. G. Hostetter, pastor of the First Christian church and Rev. F. A. Richards, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. G. G. Kerr presided.

Rev. Hostetter's remarks were on the topic, "Reasons for Observing the Sabbath Day." In it he compared the observance of the Lord's Day as Christians observe it with Sunday as it was observed formerly by the Jewish people. He gave many reasons why the day should be more sacredly regarded than it is now.

Rev. Richards spoke of "How We May Have a Better Observance of the Sabbath," giving his points, first by enforcement of the law; second by education; third by professing Christians setting a better extample, and fourth by a religous revival.

The meeting resulted it its purpose, sentiments in favor of befter observance of the day being created so that much may be accomplished.

ONE MEMBER OF THE POOR BOARD BECOMES DEFIANT

Buchanan Issues Statement in Answer to County Controller Moffitts' Charge That Salary Was Overdrawn

AUDIT SYSTEM REFORM MAY BE MADE

According to the Washington Record Poor Director R. C. Buchanan, who with other members of the Board is being asked for a refund on salary collected, the difference being that between a salary of $720 per annum, for 15 months, and at $700 per annum for the same period, yesterday issued a statement in answer to the demand of County Controller Moffit in which he resents the insinuation that the Act of Assembly has been violated, and states that if the Controller believes the board has drawn money to which it is not entitled the courts are open to the Controller for a legal interpretation of the act fixing salaries and the question when the census showed that the population of Washington county was more than 100,000.

The other members of the board have made no statements. According to the controller's view it is doubtful if any increase can be allowed during the term of the present board, but he is certain the increase cannot be allowed for the year 1910 prior to the formal and official announcement of the population of Washington county, which came later in the year. He has sent letters to the members of the Board demanding a refund of almost $270 for each member and is awaiting answers to the letters.

Cautious attorneys are inclined to accept the views of the controller and it is probable that the matter will still be adjusted by submitting it to the courts. If this is not done it is certain that the controller will enter suit to recover.

One result of the little trouble will be that both the controller's office and the commissioners office will probably insist upon a more complete system of auditing, so that all vouchers may be properly approved before they are issued. It is also likely that all salary vouchers must go through by themselves on pay rolls properly certified, and that the poor board and all others will be asked to send in these warrants at specified times, covering salaries for stated periods.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

Charleroi Branch L.C.B.A Organized Nine Years Ago

EVENT IS COMMEMORATED

Branch No. 782, L. C. B. A. observed the ninth anniversary of its organization Wednesday evening. A special feature was a literary and musical program of the following numbers: Reading, Miss Harriet Wagner; oration, Miss Anna M. Sullivan; trio, Miss Lillian Riley, Mrs. Jennie Watkinson and Miss Helen Ritzer; German inpersonations under the direction of Mrs. Magdalene Connelly. After the program was rendered five games of progressive euchre were played, favors being awarded to Mrs. Allie Turney, Miss Nora Riley and Mrs. Mary Fiedler. Dancing was enjoyed and refreshmenta were served by a committee of which Mrs. B. Jackson was the head. The affair was largely attended by members.

CANONSBURG CONVENTION

Sunday School Session Will be Held There

SCHEDULED FOR JUNE

The people of Canonsburg are beginning to take up in earnest the work of preparing to entertain the sixteenth annual convention of the Washington County Sabbath School Association, to be held June 22 and 23. This is the first time that Canonsburg has been honored by this association, and the people will do all in their power to insure its success. Fully 2,000 delegates and visitors are expected there on the two days of the convention, and to care for these is the work of the entertainment committee. This committee is composed of representatives from the federated Bible classes of the community, with W. G. Simpson as its chairman. The work of soliciting places for the entertainment of delegates and visitors is in the hands of a soliciting committee. Delegates will be furnished lodging and breakfast free.

The parades in connection with the convention are expected to be the biggest in the history of Canonsburg. The parade on the first day will be composed of children, while on the evening of the second day men and boys over thirteen years will be in line. It is hoped to have 2,000 in line in the parade on the second day.

Pays For Itself

One of the benefits of the office of county controller is evidenced by the little incident that occurred at the county seat this week, when County Controller John H. Moffit flagged a scheme on the part of the poor directors to increase their pay without the knowledge of the county commissioners and other officials. The poor directors succeeded in pulling one over on the commissioners all right, but their scheme was detected and held up by the county controller. The indications are that the county will be saved in the one attempt the sum of $750, to say nothing of a much larger amount had the self-given increase in pay not been detected.

It appears that the poor directors construed the law to the effect that they were entitled to more pay with the increased population of the county as shown by the recent census. They put this increase in and bunched their pay with a lot of other expenditures, trusting that the commissioners would pass the whole amount without question. Sure enough they did, but it was detected by the controller who has served notice on the poor directors that they must refund the surplus they gave themselves in the first accounts settled. This is only one instance where the watchfulness of the controller has saved money for the county, and the creation of the office was a big step in the dircetion of public economy.

An Emphatic Notice

It is apparent that the Democratic faction in Pennsylvania which inherited the late James Kerr's hatred for the Democratic organization in the State refuses to be reconciled. That particular crowd has gone over, bag and baggage, to the Keystoners and they are manifesting a determination to remain away from Democracy until it surrenders to that group of poltical arch-angels whose policy is place hunting and whose purpose is revenge.

The livest wire in the whole Keystone combination is John F. Short, editor and proprietor of the Clearfield Republican, a Democratic publication notwithstanding its name, and for a long time the organ of the late Mr. Kerr. Short is a known fellow and recognizes false pretense even a long distance. In his paper this week Mr. Snort served the following notice on both the Democratic factions:

"State Chairman Guthrie has opened up headquarters at Harrisburg in opposition to State Chairman DeWalt. Each claims tobe the Democratic organization of the State. Fact is, neither crowd has any votes behind them. The Democratic voters in the State are in the Keytone party and will stay there until both the Guthrie-McCormick and the Guffey-DeWalt leaderhip lies down comletely."

In the meantime the Republican organiaztion in Pennsylvania is going ahead with plans for satisfying the whole people and giving to the State an administration that is substantial and business like. Senator Boies Penrose is leading the Republicans of the nation to the Senate and President Taft is making good at every turn, pleasing even the most critical in the Democrtaic party.

While the Democrats are at each others throats the Republicans are forming in excellent shape for the Presidential campaign of next year.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Harry L. Barnhart, leader of the Palace Theatre orchestra, is practically half the show, on account of his rare discrimination in "playing to the pictures." It is a good deal of an art to lay to moving pictures—to make the melody suggest what is lacking in words, but the versatile leader of the Palace orchestra is always equal to the occasion. For instance, when the hero and heroine in an emotional photoplay embrace, the music will be "Love Me, and the World is Mine," or some other sentimental air. When the heroine is in the last stages of despair, the orchestra wails sad music like "Hearts and Flowers." Pictures out in the open bring forth rollicing strains, while Spanish and Mexican scenes bring dreamy waltz music.

There is also "burglar and villain" music, when the violin strings and piano keys whisper a stealthy "plunk-plunk-plunk" in ascending and descending keys; "Indian and cowboy" music, suggestive of free and untrameled action; social music, when life runs at high tide, and music sugestive of defeated ambition, sorrow's lowest depths, and the grief that burdens the "o'er fraught heart and bids it break." Then there is the music that peals forth in the travel and scenic pictures, that brings out the grandeur and sublimity of nature, suggesting the changing seasons, sunshine and blue skies, as well as the tempests of the ocean and the wintry blasts that sweep the plains and the great arctic regions of the ice bound north.

This rare discrimination in playing to the pictures gives a touch of realism that supplies the deficency of words. This is a feature that has made the Palace Theatre one of the most popular photoplay houses in the western end of the State, and many traveling men look forward with pleasure to the recreation the Palace affords during their brief stay in Charleroi.

A physican in one of the Westmoreland county towns who has devoted some study to the subject of transmigration, pulled one over on a neighbor not long since. Being an ardent gardener, he planted some early peas as soon as the frost was out of the ground. Before the peas were up a neighbor's hens got intothe garden, and when the doctor discovered the fowls busy at work, the peas had about all "come up and gone down again." Heaving a rock at the offending fowls the doctor's aim happened to be good and he struck one of the hens on the head killing it instantly. He started to bury it, when the neighbor, hearing the commotion among his hens, apeared and called out over the fence:

"Hey, there, what are you burying in that hole?"

"Oh," said the doctor, "I'm just replanting some of my seeds."

"Seeds!" shouted the neighbor angrily, "it looks like one of my hens."

"That's all right," returned the other, "the seeds are inside."

FOOD FERMENTS

Causes Indigestion and Stomach Distress

Indigestion or any chronic stomach trouble leads to loss of vigor and vitality; half the nervous wrecks in America today can blame indigestion for their condition.

Fermentation of food means that your stomach is run down; that your food does not digest and that the blood, not being supplied with nutritous elements, cannot supply the various organs of the body with sufficient nourishment.

That's why indigestion often causes eye weakness, brain fag, palpitation of the heart and inactive liver.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets will build up your run down stomach, will banish indigestion and put your whole system in good condition if you will give them a chance. They are sold by Piper Bros. at only 50 cents a large box.

EVERYONE NEEDS IT

W. F. Henning is Having a Wonderful Sale of Thompsons Barosma, the Mighty Kidney and Liver Specific

And no wonder, when he offers to refund your money if it doesn't cure any disease of the kidneys, liver or bladder, backache, sideache, nervousness or any weakness of the kidneys.

But Thompson's Barosma has made so many almost miraculous cures that W. F. Hennings is pretty certain not to have any return.

Here are a few instances:

Frank K. Sturges, Sturtevant, Crawford county, Pa., was cured of Bright's disease six years ago and only took six bottles. He has had no bad symptoms since.

"I had kidney trouble and enlargement of the liver and spleen. I took Thompson's Barosma. The first bottle reduced the measurement around my stomach from 45 to 36 inches, and several bottles completely cured me."—M. S. Langworthy, Tyronville, Pa.

After suffering the terrible agony of rheumatism for ten years, being compelled to use crutches, J. N. Dunn, Troy Center, Pa., after all hope had left him, and he had no faith in any remedy, took six bottles of Thompson's Barosma, threw away his crutches and went to work for the first time in ten years.

These staements are absolutely true, and the Thompson Medical Co., Titusville, Pa., will prove it. Then why should anyone suffer in the face of such facts? How can they suffer when W. F. Hennings guarantees to refund the money if a cure is not effected. Thompson's Barosma, 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

A Pair of Cheerful Liars.

The crowd in the little country store was watching the rain when Deacon Witherspoon remarked that he'd seen it rain about as hard as anybody ever had seen it rain. Somebody said:

"Deacon, how hard did you ever see it rain?"

"Well, sir," said the deacon, "once upon a time, when I was at home, we had an old cider barrel laying out in the yard with both ends out and the bunghole up, and, would you believe it, it rained so hard into that bunghole that water couldn't run out of both ends fast enough, and it swelled up and busted!"

Then Reuben Henry spoke up. He said he'd never seen it rain very hard, but he'd seen some mighty cold weather. Somebody said, "Rube, how cold did you ever see it get?"

He said, "Well, sir, one time when I was living down in Pickaway county, in hog killing time, we had a kettle of boiling water setting on the stove, and we took it out in the yard, and it froze so doggone quick the ice was hot."—National Monthly.

Genuine Sardines.

Genuine sardines are the young of the pilchard Their name comes from the fact that they are most numerous off the coast of Sardinia. They swim in the spring in shoals containing millions—fish shaped shoals ten miles long and a half mile wide The sardines are netted and taken at once to the shore. There they are washed, scraped and sprinkled with salt. The salt is soon removed, the heads and gills cut off and there is another washing Then, on beds of green brush, the fish are dried in the sun. Next they are boiled in olive oil till cooked thoroughly The packers—women always—take them now and pack them in the tin boxes we all know, filling up each box with boiling oil, fitting on the lid and making the box air tight by soldering the joints together with a jet of hot steam. Sardines are more or less perfect according as they are prepared more or less immediately after their capture and according as the oil they are packed in is more or less pure

The Young French Girl.

A young French girl enters the theater with her father She takes her seat directly in front of the privileged American girl [illegible] education Her untouched-flowerlike face is alight with anticipated pleasure, with a soft viridness of intelligence that could never be cursed with the word "brainy" Her hair is bound with a little old fashioned snood and tiny buckle, a strangely simple evening dress covers the exquisite ardor of her slender body Quickly fourfaces, the faces of the overindulged, the overprecocious, the overathletic and the overdressed, turn to study her There is something to learn in this little French maid, whose eyes never meet a man's, who is never allowed to walk alone on the street, whose unconscious grace envelops her like a veil, who is sheltered like a delicate bird, yet trained to the utmost energy reserve, accomplishment and usefulness—Atlantic.

Wall Street Superstition.

Almost all the Wall street speculators are superstitious fellows who believe in charms and amulets. In their pockets they carry lucky coins, a rabbit's foot, a horse chestnut or something of the kind One Wall street man, much envied by his companions, has a short piece of a hangman's rope to conjure with Many of the customers in the offices are even more credulous than the professional traders in their belief in signs and omens. There is a deep seated tradition that Tuesday is "low day" in a "bull market" and "high day" in a "bear market." Some persons speculate on "systems," and others employ "charts" Once they exploited a machine in Wall street known as a "market register" It was about as effective as helping anybody to win at Stock Exchange speculation as it is to rub up against a hunchback for luck just before you bet on a horse race—Munsey's Magazine.

The story is told of the times of Aretas Blood and the old Manchester locomotive works that a student came to Mr Blood once and wanted to study the business of locomotive building in his vacation days The student came well recommended, and Mr Blood who never had much use for these "tech" people, sent him down to the boiler shop and placed him in charge of the old foreman. The old man took the "tech" man around, and in the course of the inspection of the shop they came across one boiler on the inside of which was a man at work.

Playing at Death.

The mother of Ivan Turgenev, the Russian novelist, was a trying person to live with, irritable, capricious and unreasonable On Ivan's birthday in 1845, we are told in "Two Russian Reformers," after a day of festivities, Mme Turgenev pretended to be dying. "She sent for her confessor and, placing before her the portrait of her son Ivan, exclaimed 'Adieu, Ivan! Adieu, Nicolas! Adieu, my children!' Then she ordered her forty servants and all the men employed about the house to say goodby to her When they had filed out of the room Mme. Turgenev declared that she felt better and asked for tea. The next day the following 'order' appeared·

"'I give orders that tomorrow morning the disobedient servants, Nicolas Jacovlef, Ivan Perrof and Egor Kondratatlef, shall sweep the court in front of my windows'

"Those names were those of servants who had not appeared at her bedside, possibly because they were a little drunk that evening 'Good for nothings! Drunkards! exclaimed Mme. Turgenev 'They rejoice at the death of their mistress!'"

The Bank Beat the Prince.

The Gentlewoman of London recalls the following story of the prince regent and Coutts' bank: "When George IV. was a regent he had a grudge against Coutts and determined to play a trick on the authorities. In those days even the great banks kept very small reserves of cash, and the playful prince thought out a plan to close Coutts' So he sent his equerry round from Carlton House with a check for £100,000, fondly hoping that the bank would not be able to pay over the counter The prince's trick, however, failed of success, as the wary old partner of the Strand bank proved equal to the occasion He said at once to the equerry, 'How will his royal highness take the amount, in gold or notes?' The equerry hesitated and then said he had better go back to Carlton House to inquire So he departed, and Coutts' had time to send to the Bank of England and get the cash required, but it was not needed, as the prince regent, seeing that Coutts' had 'got the best of him, did not return the check in question"

Eggs That Can't Be Found.

The eggs of some common birds of the present day have never been found. There is the robin snipe, its eggs have never been seen An English zoologist kept a man going up and down the coast of Labrador for weeks purposely to get a robin snipe's egg but it was in vain The bird is known by thousands of people, but it breeds so far north and so remote from any civilization that no scientific observer can ever get to its nest ere the young are hatched and have taken to wing The frigate bird that is so commonly seen at sea on the Pacific and off the West Indies is such a solitary bird and is so seldom seen in its nest during the hours of daylight that its egg is rare It seems strange, but the eggs of so well known a bird as the sandpiper have never been found and are almost priceless—London Globe.

Reversed the Proposition

Robert Wickliffe Woolley, the writer found it necessary not long ago to take a trip west. On the dining car of the train he saw that he had in his pocket 10 cents in change his smallest bank note being one for $50. He handed this to the porter, who went to the end of the car for a conference with the conductor.

"I'm very sorry about this" said the conductor, standing in front of Woolley and toying with the big bill, "but we haven't the change for $50 We'll just take your address and send you the change."

Woolley calmly reached over and took possession of the banknote "You've got nothing on me," he said "I'll take the address of the railroad and send the price of the meal."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Baths of Caracalla.

The Romans appear to have been well off in the matter of bathing places in the first and second centuries. In the baths of Caracalla 1,600 bathers could be accommodated at one time The inclosed area was 360 square yards, but it included a course for foot racing The bathing establishment was 240 yards in length by 124 wide. The remains of the walls are eight and ten feet thick and in some places as much as fifty feet high

A Cumulative Test.

As the thin man and the stout one were talking of diet and food in general the thin man said: "You can get an excellent dinner at Clapham's, the restaurant near my office, for 25 cents Ever try one of his dinners?"

"One of 'em! Yes, I should say I had," said the stout man. "Why, I ate four of 'em one day last week!"

TRIED TO BE NICE.

But Fannie Made an Awful Mess of It With the Old Lady

"When Fannie is bent upon pleasing," sighed Fannie's younger sister, "she can certainly make a horrible mess of things Last Sunday Charlie Evans, having arrived at the point where he felt he wanted his family's opinion of me, invited us both up to take tea with his mother The minute I laid eyes on his mother I knew Fannie would get in trouble—she simply can't help getting nervously foolish when there's a religious person around

"Charlie's mother kissed us and, addressing herself to Fannie as the elder said something about our being very sweet to come and see a daughterless old woman Whereat Fannie looked at Charlie and his two brothers and replied feelingly that it must be a terrible disappointment to have only them. Mrs Evans, to rectify my sister's misapprehension, told us proudly that she had three more sons, not present.

"By this time Fannie realized that she had made a bad beginning and leaped further in with the supposition that the other three were off having a good time instead of moping at home The older lady drew herself up and said severely:

"'My three sons are in heaven, Miss Barnes'

"'Oh, how awful!' came Fannie's ready gasp

"'No, not awful at all!' and Mrs Evans was positively glaring at us 'I feel that they were specially blessed in being allowed to pass thus early to their Lord They died as little children'

"'Dear me how glad you must have been" blurted out flustered Fannie

"By this time I had kicked a hole in Fannie's ankle, and that quieted her for awhile She might have kept still for the rest of the evening had not her pet subject, the higher education of woman, come up for the old lady's disapproval Then Fannie made a handspring into the conversation by remarking that when we had more educated mothers there would be less infant mortality

"And, mind you Fannie was really trying to be nice for my sake."—New York Times

What To Do
—FOR—
Sickly Children
Letters from Mothers

"I wish I could induce every mother, who has a delicate, sickly child, to try your delicious Cod Liver and Iron Tonic VINOL. It restored our little daughter to health and strength after everything else had failed."—Mrs. C. W. Stump, Canton, Ohio.

Mrs. F. P. Skonnard, of Minneapolis, Minn., writes, "I want to recommend VINOL to every mother who has a weak or sickly child. My little boy was sickly, pale, and had no appetite for two years. I tried different medicines and doctors without benefit, but thanks to VINOL, he is a well and healthy boy to-day."

C. Allen, of New Bedford, Mass., writes. "My two puny children gained rapidly in flesh and strength in a very short time after taking VINOL."

We positively know VINOL will build up little ones and make them healthy, strong and robust. Try one bottle, and if you are not satisfied, we will return your money.

HOW
I Was Cured of Malaria

"I was for over five years troubled with Malarial Fever. It would almost always come on in the Spring and would bother me for the remainder of the summer. I tried different medicines, but they did not seem to help me. I also had the doctor off and on for some time but the next year I would be troubled just the same and I would have to be at home for several weeks. I would be in bed one day and have chills and a heavy fever, and the next day I would be up about the house, and this is the way I would be for several weeks each summer.

"I finally decided to try some good blood medicine, so I began taking Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and found it did me lots of good. I began taking it early in the spring and continued taking it all through the summer. I found, after taking a few bottles, that my body was covered with pimples, and it seemed to drive all the humor out of my blood. After that I felt much better, and now I am just as healthy as ever I was, and I am never troubled with Malarial Fever."—George P Strong, 35 Groveland Street, Lynn, Mass. Thousands of people believe in

Malaria is caused by a parasite which gets into the blood, and unless the blood is in a healthy condition and has normal resisting properties, they attack and destroy the red corpuscles, and so seriously impair the general health.

Chills and fever are the most marked symptoms of Malaria, which can be cured by purifying and enriching the blood. Mr. Strong found that Pinkham's Blood Purifier cured him after all other means had failed, and what it did for Mr. Strong it will do for other sufferers.

Child Dies of Burns

Magdalena Berringer, the five year old daughter of Carl Berringer of Donora who was burned while at play Sunday morning, died her home yesterday afternoon as a result of the burns. The child was playing about a fire when her clothing caught fire and she was horribly burned.

Her Stipulation.

The pale young man with sheepish eyes glanced timorously at his fair companion. They had sat together in the conservatory for fully five minutes and had hardly exchanged a word.

At last, in desperation, he dived his hand into his breast pocket and brought out his cigarette case.

"Do you mind, Miss Smilax, if I smoke?" he asked.

"Not in the least," replied the young lady sweetly, "if you don't think it will make you sick!"

Close Relations.

"You advise that man's constituents to stand by him?"

WESTMORELAND IS MORE MODEST

Only Petition for 13 1-2 Miles of Improved Highways This Year

Westmoreland county commissioners are more modest in their demand for new roads than the Washington county commissioners, only petitioning for 13 1-2 miles of bigbway as compared with the 35 miles asked for in this county.

The petitionar has been filed with Judge Doty and will be presented to the grand jury for the May criminal court term on or about May 11. Upon the approval of that body, the petitions will be presented to the court of quarter session for approval.

The roads asked to be permanently improved are the Latrobe, St. Vincent and Philadelphia and Pittsburg turnpike in Unity township; the Latrobe Bradenville and Derry road in Derry township; the Vandergrift-Chamber School House in Allegheny and Washington township and the Monessen and Pricedale road in Rostraver township.

These roads will connect the various towns along them with the State roads in the Sproul bill, now before the Legislature.

Herman Dague of Donora was a visitor in Charleroi this morning on business.
